Kill Bill S-206!

They are flooding Parliament with distraction bills so the public is overwhelmed and cannot see the one bill that makes the entire system possible. More than a dozen federal bills are advancing simultaneously — each attacking a different pillar of Canadian freedom. They fall into clear clusters:

Bills Attacking Due Process and Court Rights:

Bill S-206 — Administrative Monetary Penalties (The central pillar)

Enables penalties without hearings, judges, trials, or common-law protections.

Bill C-63 — Online Harms Act

Undefined “harm,” digital speech penalties, CRTC enforcement authority.

Bill C-27 — Digital Charter Act

Creates federal AI regulators empowered to issue compliance orders without court oversight.

Bill C-52 — Beneficial Ownership Transparency

Expands federal surveillance and administrative enforcement.

Bills Attacking Parliamentary Supremacy (Power shift to agencies):

Bill C-26 — Critical Cyber Systems Act

Sweeping regulation by order-in-council, bypassing Parliament.

Bill C-11 — Online Streaming Act

Gives the CRTC unprecedented control over content curation and digital reach.

Bill C-18 — Online News Act

Allows federal regulators to determine access to, and compensation for, digital journalism.

Bills Attacking Property Rights:

Bill C-234 — Agricultural Fuel Restrictions

Expands federal control over farm operations and production.

Bill S-241 — Jane Goodall Act

Sweeping biosafety authority over wildlife, land, and private property.

Bill C-49 — Atlantic Accord Amendments

Expands federal control over offshore land, climate restrictions, and energy development.

Bills Attacking Freedom of Speech and Assembly:

Bill C-63 — Online Harms Act:

Criminalizes undefined “harm,” empowers bureaucrats to judge speech.

Bill C-261 — Misleading Communications Act:

Penalties for “misleading” speech — undefined and discretionary.

Bill C-70 — Foreign Interference Act:

Mass surveillance powers with vague thresholds.

Bill Attacking Religion Freedom:

Bill C-9 — “Harmful Conduct” Redefinition

Allows the state to regulate spiritual beliefs and pastoral work under “harm.”

The critical pattern. Different bills, different sectors and different rights being attacked.

But here is the truth: Every single one of these bills depends on ONE central enforcement pillar, and that pillar is:

Bill S-206 — The Administrative Penalty Switch

Bill S-206, the hub of the entire system, gives federal departments the power to issue penalties without:

- a hearing
- a judge
- a trial
- due process
- common-law protections
- judicial review in practice

It turns federal agencies into their own courts — investigator, prosecutor, judge, and enforcer. No democracy on Earth should tolerate this.

This is the enforcement engine behind:

- Digital ID
- CBDCs
- Carbon allowances
- Biosafety / One Health rules
- Smart-meter penalties
- Travel scoring
- Online speech controls
- Zoning & land-use mandates

Data alone cannot control a population. They need the power to punish. S-206 provides it. Remove the keystone → the arch collapses.

Why scatter us with other bills? Because if Canadians focus on S-206, the agenda dies
The distraction bills serve one purpose:

- to scatter attention and exhaust the public.
- to keep citizens debating side issues
- to hide the enforcement bill under noise
- to make resistance impossible to organize
- to create outrage fatigue

This is how large control systems are built — through distraction around the edges while the core is slipped into place.

What are they building - and why S-206 is the core. Here is the architecture of the planned digital-governance system:

- Digital ID → who you are
- CBDCs → what you buy
- Carbon scoring → how you move & heat your home
